Soldiers, mercenaries and military enterprise
War as business in the Early Modern period

Program

13.00–13.30: Perceptions, concepts and prospects: mercenaries and military enterprise in history and research
Magnus Linnarsson
Stockholm University, Sweden

13.30–14.15: Danish naval officers in foreign navies 1720–1801
Jakob Seerup
Bornholm Museum, Denmark

14.15–15.00: French soldiers in Swedish service 1608–1614
Jaakko Björklund
University of Helsinki, Finland

15.00–15.30: Coffee break

15.30–16.15: Mobilizing transnational military supplies during the Swedish campaign against Russia, 1741–1743
Patrik Winton
Uppsala University, Sweden

16.15–17.00: Military orders and the Portuguese overseas expansion in the north of Africa (15th century)
Leandro Ferreira
University of Porto, Portugal

17.00–17.45: Mercenary contracts in 16th century Sweden
Martin Neuding Skoog
Stockholm University, Sweden

17.45–18.00: Conclusions

The seminar is open to all interested; preregistration is necessary. Registration by email no later than May 4 to Martin Neuding Skoog: martin.skoog@historia.su.se

Please note that the number of seats is limited.

Wednesday, May 9, at 13–18. Bergsmannen, Aula Magna.